

Performance of Finnish optical fiber cables

Overview

At the end of September 2025, broadband networks based on optical fibre covered 80% of households in Finland, corresponding to almost 2,3 million households. Availability increased by 12 percentage points compared with the situation one year earlier. This report presents a comprehensive overview of the Finnish optical fiber cables market, the effect of recent high-impact world events on it, and a forecast for the market development in the medium term. The country has been actively engaging in international trade, with Sweden, the Netherlands, and Estonia being the primary suppliers. On the export front. Although Europe's fibre-optic cable manufacturing industry is fairly small on a global scale, it's becoming increasingly important for the continent's digital transformation. Our specialties include wireless RF technology and fiber optic technology for building internal networks.
